	8 Muluc/Magnetism
	Harmonizing. Emotions that fuel the movement of action - provides attractive force in today's Law of Attraction context. This can be seen as the birth of the emotional body. Muluc in the matrix always means a person who can magnetize creation with ceremony and if it is in your matrix then learn to do ceremony in any way that makes meaning for you - every 20 days on this day.
6 Manik/Direction	13 Imix/Void	7 Men/Perspective
Flowing. Pillar of the four directions from which everything in the world was created. And the pillars of spiritual strength. Four legs represent the four directions, 4 corners of the universe, elements. Manik in the matrix always means an ability to go in many directions. And a gift in providing guidance in direction. Manik is chosen because of their knowledge of the spiritual aspects of direction.	Completing. This is the closest energy to being fully grounded in the void, the universal field of creation, deepest collective unconscious. The Popul Vhu says that "everything there is that might be is simply not there." This is the essence of every thing. Imix in the matrix always means that the person has a deep comfort with the unknown – bringing information from the unknown to the known as in a scientific endeavor, or as a visionary.	Revealing. The highest perspective on the earth, intermediary with divine. With this energy comes the highest perspective possible without being actually god or in heaven. This is the stage of the first ability to see what is possible on that path which is calling us. Men in the matrix always means an abundance of spiritual wealth because spiritual information is close to them.
	5 Ben/Staff
	Empowering. The glyph refers to the Staff of personal power or the Sacred Bundle that an initiate carries – the power is personal and always comes from the Creator. Ben in the matrix always means a highly developed singleness of mind, tough and analytical mind and conscious ego. If highly connected spiritually, people with this in the matrix are given the station to govern and be diplomats at whatever level they are.

Levels of consciousness: Coming from the level of Personal Identity in the world, always moving through the deep Collective Unconscious and going toward the Personal Conscious.

Assets and Strong Suits:

There is always a deep personal strength in “nothingness” and quiet – in consciousness without form. Personal identity and strength in self knowledge is always a strength unless it is too rigid.
Here the Central Birth Creative Tone is “stronger” or more manifest in the world and the other nodes are more subtle – ending in 8 which is the apex of harmonizing.

Challenges:

Shadows of the energies include too much rigidity in personal identity particularly in relationships. Spending too much focus on the “void” creates an excess of spaciness in worldly activities. Relying too heavily on emotional content can create imbalance.
Male/Material vs Female/Spiritual Days	Balancing a sense of clear direction with changing perspective.
Male/Material vs Female/Spiritual Tones	Overusing the oar of feminine Flowing or masculine Revealing
Right vs Left Side Level of Consciousness	Operating from Personal Unconscious or Personal Identity.
Impeding the four tone sequence	Impeding Empowering, Flowing, Revealing, Harmonizing.

Polarities and Resistances:

Comfort Zone	Loop between Flowing and Revealing and back again. The energy of Completing will always be comfortable also as it is the Central Birth Tone.
Break Through	Break out of the comfortable loop by Harmonizing.

Balance Point and Place to Rejuvenate: Chuen – when you want to center yourself, remember that you are the weaver of your own time and your own space.

If you are going in circles, the balance the oars. If you are not headed in the direction you want, focus on the Future. If you are stuck in the past, focus on completing the Past. If you are past the age of 39 and not feeling aligned with your “destiny” then start focusing intently on the Future energy.
